A blind guy on a barstool shouts to the bartender, "Wanna hear a blonde joke?"

In a hushed voice, the guy next to him says, "Before you tell that joke, you should know something. Our bartender IS blonde, the bouncer is blonde. I'm a 6' tall, 200-lb. black belt. The guy sitting next to me is 6'2, weighs 225 and he's a rugby player. The fella to your right is 6'5" pushing 300 and he's a wrestler. Each one of US is blonde. Think about it, Mister. You still wanna tell that joke?"

The blind guy says, "Not if I'm gonna have to explain it five times."

Nine-year-old Aaron came home from the playground with a bloody nose, black eye, and torn clothing. It was obvious he'd been in a bad fight and lost. While his father was patching him up, he asked his son what happened.

"Well, Dad," said Aaron, "I challenged Larry to a duel. And, you know, I gave him his choice of weapons."

"Uh-huh," said the father, "that seems fair."

"I know, but I never thought he'd choose his sister!"

The children's pastor at the local mega-church was teaching some children in the Sunday morning children's church a lesson about God and all the animal's he had created. He decided to begin his lesson with a riddle:

"What is it that collects nuts for the winter, climbs trees, and has a bushy tail?"

An eager little girl near the front waved her hand. The pastor called on her.

"Well," she said, "I know the answer's supposed to be Jesus, but is sure sounds like a squirrel to me..."

Two friends were driving to the golf course one morning, when one of them decided to get a little philosophical.

"You know, I was thinking," he said to his friend. "Golf is a lot like taxes."

"Okay," replied his friend, "I'll bite. Why is golf a lot like taxes?"

"Simple," said his friend, "You spend your whole life driving your heart out for the green, and, no matter what happens, you always end up in a hole."

There are three Blackbirds on the roof of a house. A hunter shoots one of them with his rifle. How many of the blackbirds are left on the roof?

A frog telephones a psychic hotline and is told, "You are going to meet a beautiful young girl who will want to know everything about you."

"Great," says the frog, "Will I meet her at a party?"

"No," said the psychic, "Next year -- in biology class."

A Young man left his dorm and moved to an apartment and he went shopping for cleaning equipment. His cart was loaded with a broom; mop, dustpan, sponges and a full array of cleaning products topped off by a lone food purchase -- a large bag of potato chips. Seeing the checkout clerk's quizzical look, he explained, "I'm a very messy eater."

Q: How was copper wire invented?

A: Two lawyers were arguing over a penny.

Q: Why don't lawyers go to the beach?

A: Cats keep trying to bury them.

Why do they bury lawyers under 20 feet of dirt? Because deep down, they're really good people.

What do you call 100 lawyers chained together at the bottom of the ocean? A good start.

Life's golden age is when the kids are too old to need baby-sitters and too young to borrow the family car.

The teacher was telling the class about plants that have the word "dog" in front of them: dog rose, dogwood, dog violet. She asked the class if they could name another flower with the prefix "dog." Steven raised his hand and said, "Sure, Miss Jones, a 'collie' flower!"

A new TV game show in Hollywood had many contestants who were beautiful, but they weren't necessarily too smart. On one show, one such woman was extremely nervous, but tried to make the best of her performance.

The host asked, "Who was the first man, for one thousand dollars?"

She responded, "The first man was Peter, my postman, but he only paid me one hundred dollars!"

Kathy and Suzy are having a conversation during their lunch break.

Kathy asks, "So, Suzy, how's your sex life these days?"

Suzy replies, "Oh, you know. It's the usual, Social Security kind."

"Social Security?" Kathy asked quizzically.

"Yeah, you get a little each month, but it's not enough to live on."

The scene was a tiny mountain village in a remote section of West Virginia. An old mountaineer and his young wife were getting a divorce in the local court. But custody of the children was a problem.

The mother jumped to her feet and protested to the judge that since she had brought the children into this world, she should retain custody of them.

The old mountaineer also wanted custody of the children. The judge asked for his side of the story and, after a long moment of silence, the mountaineer slowly rose from his chair and said, "Judge, when I put a quarter in a candy machine and a candy bar comes out, does it belong to me or the machine?"

To help your children turn out well, spend twice as much time with them and half as much money.

The service area was located on a main highway leading to the beach. The pump attendant was accustomed, to seeing tired and sunburned occupants in the cars that pulled in to tank up.

When a rusty old station wagon containing a very tired looking couple and seven screaming children pulled into his station, the attendant tried small talk to cheer the occupants. "Hope you had a good day at the beach! Nice looking kids there. Are they all yours, or is this a picnic?"

Wearily, the driver relied, "Yes, they are all mine and it is NO picnic!"

Why are your feet, knees, or lower back in pain?

A simple foot imprint can help you assess whether foot imbalance is part of the cause.

Q: What did the mommy snake say to the baby snake?

A: Stop crying and viper your nose!

Q: What did the pencil sharpener say to the pencil?

A: "Stop going in circles and get to the point!"

While waiting for a prescription to be filled, I heard an explosion from behind the divider, followed by an outpouring of dense black smoke. The Pharmacist emerged several minutes later; his white uniform scorched black. He glared at the woman waiting next to me and said, "Would you ask your doctor to write your prescription again, and this time -- PRINT IT!"

A husband said to his wife, "Your mother has been living with us for 5 years now. Isn't it time that she got herself her own apartment?" "My mother?" said the shocked wife, "I thought she was your mother."

A shopkeeper was dismayed when a brand new business much like his own opened up next door and erected a huge sign which read 'BEST DEALS.'

He was horrified when another competitor opened up on his right, and announced its arrival with an even larger sign, reading 'LOWEST PRICES.'

The shopkeeper panicked, until he got an idea. He put the biggest sign of all over his own shop. It read: 'MAIN ENTRANCE'

A customer called our airline's reservation office to pay for his ticket with a credit card. My co-worker asked him, "Would you please spell the name as it appears on the card, sir?"

The customer replied, "V-I-S-A."

There once was a lady who was very concerned about her missing parrot. Not knowing what to do, she called 911. "You gotta help me find my parrot!" The operator patiently replied, "We can't help you with that, ma'am. This number only deals with emergencies." But the lady persisted, and then the operator told her not to be concerned, that the parrot should fly back in a few days. Then, out of desperation, the lady begged, "But you don't understand! The only thing he says is, "Here, kitty, kitty!!!"
